COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

We find one of the problems arising from people not dumping as far back as they should at the dump is because of smoke from the area. People do not like to back their vehicles into it. We request users not to set fires as the custodian will do it when the need becomes apparent. He can burn at times more convenient to all concerned.

The dog ordinance is now in effect. There appears to be as many animals on the streets as ever. It will cause some of the owners a great amount of inconvenience if they either have to rescue their pets from the pound or go to court themselves. The latter method of enforcement will be emphasized. The penalty will be not less than $5.00 or more than $10.00 plus the cost of prosecution. Also these owners will be asked to devote their time to appear in court.

Up until this time no effort has been made to enforce the ordinance pertaining to leaving snow and ice on the streets and sidewalks. We have attempted to resolve this problem by contacting the minority who insist upon continuing this practice.

ANDOVER-E. ANDOVER

Mrs. Violet Swain, Corres.

A four-mill tax increase is anticipated as a result of the total appropriations approved by residents of this community at the annual town meeting Saturday. David Percival served as moderator at the session which was held at Town Hall.

The total amount raised was $351,161 compared to $349,263 last year. Although there is only a slight difference in these totals, it was explained that $15,000 was taken from invested funds last year which kept the tax rate down. Surplus funds will not be used this year so the actual difference is more than $15,000.

A committee was appointed to study the needs for the town regarding the fire department and a town hall facility. The committee will decide if it is feasible for the town to acquire property and construct a fire station and construct a town garage with town hall facilities.

The committee is Fire Chief R. Donald French, Road Commissioner Wilbur H. Chenery, Selectmen Harold Falkenham, Charles Cutting and Harvey McGuire, and appointees Warren Percival and Herman Sauter who is chairman.

A committee of three will be appointed to study the old Elm Street School building given back by SAD 41 to see what can be done with the building. The committee will report at a special town meeting in three months.

It was voted to have current tax payable by Aug. 31 with interest at half of one per cent per month or a fraction thereof to be charged after the due date.

In the selectmen's race, Harvey C. McGuire was elected by 103 votes to defeat Kenneth Dixon, 54 and Leon Dym, 1. Arthur Myshrahl was elected treasurer by defeating Katherine Snyder, 101 to 61. Myshrahl again defeated Mrs. Snyder in the tax collector's race by a vote of 102 to 59. In the road commissioner's contest, Wilbur H. Chenery defeated Donald French, 128 to 25. McGuire was elected clerk; R. Donald French fire warden; Kenneth Feener, school director for a year, and Eddie Snyder, director for three years.

Weston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cushman and daughter, Dawn, of Billerica, and Don Stewart of Newton, Mass. They were spending the week end at Smith-Akers camp in Andover.

Mrs. George Luxton received a letter recently from her brother's wife, Mrs. Steve Clough of Anchorage, Alaska. There were four Girl Scouts and seven Brownies and their leader, Mrs. Elaine Merrill, who attended church in a group Sunday morning. Dr. Roland Wessells was the guest minister. He was pleased to have them attend and had them give the Scout Pledge.

Many from South Woodstock attended Town meeting held Monday night in the gym at Bryant Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis attended Pomona at Oxford Grange Hall, Welchville Tuesday night. The speaker for the evening was Maynard Dolloff, Commissioner of Agriculture.

Snow seems to be the topic of the day. There's 10 ft. over my flower bed. I'm sure no one can complain because their house isn't banked up to keep it warm this winter. I heard the WGAN announcer say that to beat the record snow fall of the past we should have 125 inches and we had over 100 some time ago. He said "Well, let it come. We might just as well get it over."

BASKETBALL: CLASS D

by Kristan Larson (Western Maine) and Phyllis Harmon
(Eastern Maine Correspondent)

Well folks, this is my last column of the year. I graduate this year.
I will try and find somebody to carry on for me next year. It's all over for this year. Jonesport-Beals are State Champions again.

Class D State Championship Game:
At 1:00 p. m. last Saturday Gould took on Jonesport-Beals for the title at Colby College, in Waterville.
Jonesport-Beals won 63-50. The game had many ironic qualities about it.
In the tournaments Gould hit three teammates on cold nights. In this game Jonesport-Beals caught Gould on a cold night. The Royals simply outplayed the Huskies. They controlled the boards with 43 rebounds to Gould's 33. They were 42% from the floor while Gould had a cold 31%.
From the foul line they were 68% to Gould's 42%. There you have three major reasons why Gould was off.
Both teams pressed each other somewhat and faltered. Other than that it was a pretty close game. It was led many times. The Royals maintained a lead most of the way. The period scores went like this: 19-12, 23-27, 42-37, and 63-50. Gould led only once in the game.

one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principle.
Break up cliques, level wealth with honesty, let worth be judged according to wisdom, and we get better views of humanity."

In the second period. In the last few minutes of the ball game the Royals outscored Gould 13-3. At one time the score was 63-47. John Algelt hit on a foul shot and Gary Graham scored a field goal to give Gould its 50 points. One of the most ironic factors about the game was that it was a freshman that won it for Jonesport-Beals. Last year Dwight Carver had 35 points against Gould, this year Rick Fagonde had 31 against the Huskies. The 6-foot
2-inch center for the Royals displayed some fine sharpshooting from the field and from the foul line. He pulled down 16 rebounds also. The Carver-Fagonde combine pulled some startling plays on the Huskies and the audience. Carver had 13 points and teammate Bert Penbody clipped in 11. Gary Graham, Bob Schmol, and Charlie Ault paced the losers with 15, 13, and 10 points. Bob Fair-burn hauled down 12 rebounds for the Huskies. There is a possibility that Gould will meet Jonesport-Beals again for the title next year.
We'll have to wait and see.

Class D All Star Team:

First String: Rick Fagonde, 6 foot
2 inch center, Jonesport-Beals Royals; David Demson, 6 foot 2 inch forward, Washington Academy Raiders; Bob Schmol, 6 foot 3 inch forward, Gould Academy Huskies; Dwight Carver, 5 foot 11 inch guard, Jonesport-Beals Royals; Gary Graham, 6 foot 11 inch guard, Gould Academy Huskies.

Second String: Bob Fairburn, 6 foot
6 inch center, Gould Academy Huskies; Bob Grover, 6 foot forward, Mt. Abram Roadrunners; Jeff Norris, 6 foot 4 inch forward, Dirigo Dixies; Jack Milligan, 5 foot 8 inch guard, Gould Academy Huskies; Bertram Penbody, 5 foot 11 inch guard, Jonesport-Beals Royals.

Third String: Lowell Hinkley, 6 foot 3 inch center, Mt. Abram Roadrunners; Basil Huff, 6 foot 3 inch forward, East Grand Vikings; Willie Wentzell, 5 foot 8 inch forward,
Wells Warriors; Dan Vogt, 5 foot 11 inch guard, Gould Academy; Greg Harmon, 5 foot 5 inch guard, Washington Academy Raiders.

Coach of the Year: Mr. Charles Hurd, Gould Academy Huskies. I strongly feel that he deserves this title. He brought an undernourished (league games) team into the Western Maine Tournaments in lowly 6th place. He carried them through all three games to retain their title and on to the States to play Jonesport-Beals. Here's to you Mr. Hurd!

JV team of the year: Gould Academy JVs. This powerful club raised an unprecedented 10-0 record in class D and a 7-1 record in prep-school competition. Coached by Wayne Davis, this club will be a great feeder-system to Mr. Hurd's varsity squad.

tine Grover, as she waited to enter afternoon. Russell Carson is driving the snowmobile.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In regard to Dr. Albert Ring's comments, in the March 4th, "Letters to the Editor" column, in the Bethel Citizen, I agree, that "fragile hunting death", does not, do justice to the story surrounding the death of Mr. Snow. But, on the other hand, in such a short column, I can not go into the complete details concerning each statement that I put into the column. The idea is to arouse people's interest, so that they will indeed, want to know more about the articles I write about.

Dr. Ring's account of Mr. Snow's death was very complete. I too, have read the book to which he referred, and find it quite interesting. I am continuing to look for anything concerning the further whereabouts of Mr. Butterfield.

Sincerely,
Jan Thompson
Bethel, Maine

"Thanks for Your Eyes"

Editor, Sir:

It was surprising but good to learn from an article in the Reader's Digest that it was the Lions Club who were the founders of the Eye Bank and Research Society, Inc.

Last November, in Buffalo alone
25 persons had received corneal transplants from donors who had bequeathed their eyes to the Buffalo Eye Bank, and the gift of the eyes had restored their sight. Among them was a young lawyer who had been nearly totally blind since the age of fifteen; a mother of seven who had been in the "shuffling" state of blindness twenty years ago.

It is hard to believe that there are in the United States some 30,000

STUDENT COUNCIL NOTES:
TELSTAR'S SKI TEAM

The ski team put it all together again this year and claimed the title of State Class A Champions. This season being over the team now holds a record of one loss to 25 wins. This is a tremendous record for the team's three year existence.

For those who may not realize it Telstar won the Western State class B title twice, the State class B title, the Western State class A title, and finally the State class A title. Not bad at all.

Last Friday during activity period an assembly was held in honor of the ski team. Awards were presented to them again so that the school would have a chance to look at them. Also individual awards were given to each member on the team.

Article 14 in a 1966 town report requests that some taxes be abated. Some because of a claim to have been under 21 when taxed, others claimed to have paid in other towns, and one because he was thought to be entitled by the Collector. That year, taxpayers received $1 to $6 weekly wages plus $2.50 for board. Many towns paid for labor on the road were less than one dollar.

All our snow has disappeared from sight this last week. It's covered by a foot more or less of new white stuff.

Crows are being seen and heard more frequently.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard LeConte are calling the parents, Alex and Mary LeConte.

Phyllis Bernier writes from the Arctic that it is common to see dusky riffs along along with stone streets and that groups of children amuse themselves by squirting water on passing cars.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Calista Morgan, Corres. —
On March fourth the wind greeted us from the northeast—a wind blown under an arch of steel—a wind facing the falling snow down the pond and the valley.

But outside my windows there was a constant chorus of chirps and calls coming from the trees; the talk of the evening grosbeaks waiting and watching.

Then with a rush of wings they wheeled and settled by the sunflower seeds. The males dusky dull yellowish in color, with black and white wings were beautiful against the snow. The females silvery-gray mingled among them.

As I stood to watch them I heard the crackling as their strong beaks broke the seeds. Then with another whirl of wings they were off into the trees to wait once again.

The winter goldfinches came and went and at times ate with the grosbeaks but not as ravenously. Occasionally the male and female purple finches appeared. The old-rose color of the male looked as if his head and rump had been dipped in the juice of raspberries. He really stood out against the white of the snow.

As usual the chickadees, nuthatches, and woodpeckers required attention.

"I watched a flock of snow birds engaged in finding food . . . and I here and now admit . . . they had great fortitude . . . they perched upon the frozen earth . . . as though it were velvet plush . . . and when one spied a crust of bread . . . they all joined in the rush . . . where they hide out when storms invade . . . is really beyond me . . . for there is little shelter in . . . a bony leafless tree . . . they love the freezing temperatures . . . this no one can deny . . . they're migratory Eskimos . . . that love a hazy sky."

Ben Burroughs

Three red squirrels fought and scolded at their feeder. If they did not find food there, they raced to the other feeders where they were not welcome.
My big gray squirrel that appeared last week arrived but did not stay long.

The landscape seemed to move and change with the blow of the snow, the sleetlike rain, and the heavy clouds bringing along a false night.

Out back the branches lifted and fell in rhythmic swing of the air, sounding sure and deep. An occasional strong gust made a long "whaughh" then lessened again. The old fir stood black-green and the maples and elms seemed to reach for the pewter sky. On through the day the erratic winds bit into the clinging undefended bark. But they stood against the cold and storm proudly and beautiful with symmetry of form.

During the whole day the night and into the next day those winds and the snow were battling while all the country around was hidden behind a moving curtain of white.

But the sun did appear again, the dunes crowded the valley above the new blanket of white, and the same words stretched on to the sky.

FOURTH QUARTER SURGE BY JONESPORT-BEALS SCUTTLES GOULD 63-59 IN "D" STATE FINAL

Jonesport-Beals' 6 foot 2 inch freshman pivot Rick Fagonde scored a game-high 31 points, pulled down 16 rebounds and led a last-period surge that carried the Royals to a 63-59 win over Gould Academy to take its second consecutive Class D state championship at Colby College last Saturday afternoon. A year ago Jonesport-Beals defeated Gould for the title, 66-64.

The winners carried a five-point lead into the final period, but the tenacious Huskies closed to within one point, 44-43, with 6:41 remaining.

Sophomore Dwight Carver then hit a field goal and two free throws to move the Royals back to a five point spread, 48-43. Cary Graham, Gould's MVP winner at the Western Maine tourney, hit a bucket, but Fagonde came right back to score to make it 50-45. Reserve Charlie Ault then connected for Gould from the corner at 3:22 to close within three again.

Now started the beginning of the end for Gould, as, in the next two minutes and 20 seconds, Jonesport ran off 13 consecutive points to push ahead, 60-47, with 1:02 remaining and virtually retain its state title. Big men in that string were Bert Peabody with four and Fagonde with five.

From the floor the Royals shot 25 for 60 while Gould managed 21 for 67. The shorter Down East five also outrebounced Gould, 43-33. Peabody, assisting Fagonde with 10, Rob Fairburn, Gould's 66 pivot, who was limited to but one field goal, had 12 rebounds. At the foul line Jonesport shot 13 of 19, and Gould hit an anemic 8 out 19.
